A NOTE FROM DR. STEIN

We have so many reasons to be grateful at SAS! We have the privilege of reading our Bibles each morning, of singing praise songs to God, of enjoying group and individual prayer time in school WITHOUT PERSECUTION! We learned in Bible this week about parables, about why Jesus spoke to the world in the guise as story. The simple truth is this: stories are easier to digest than bald truth. We can think about the story, we can apply it from different angles, and a story can continue giving guidance as your situation changes. For instance: in the story of the prodigal son we usually think about the son who ran away, and how we are like him. Or perhaps if you are a parent you think of yourself as the Father, and you are waiting for your child to return! But this week we looked at comparing ourselves to the son who never left. This was the person without compassion. With a hurt, justified resentment of his sibling. He pouted, acted prideful, and criticized his Father. Are we tempted to act this way? Do we have opinions on situations to which we cannot relate? So this week we considered walking a "mile" in the shoes of others before passing judgement.

Preparations are underway for the Valentine's banquet! We will have a slideshow to show everyone's wedding photos! If you are part of a couple and you are planning to attend the banquet (on February 17 at 5:00pm) please take a minute and email your wedding photo to John Klaver at jsklaver@gmail.com He will be compiling a slideshow to enjoy during our banquet music! What fun it will be to see everyone's 'beginning!' Don't forget to RSVP for the banquet at 904-214-2843! We will have a lovely evening, and don't want you to miss it! We are planning a children's program for age birth to 11, and a teen/young person program for kids 12-16. Please mark your calendar!

A big thank you to Ms. Quinn (a neighbor of Mrs. Stein's who donated more than 100 books for us to read! What a blessing!
