STUDENT OF THE WEEK

A NOTE FROM DR. STEIN

Another week has passed, and we are settling into our routine here at SAS. Mornings will find us journaling, singing, and sharing our problems with God through prayer and thanksgiving. We are so blessed to be able to praise and worship Him any time we feel the need!

This week's projects for the lower graders were about U.S. Communities. Students picked a state, and shared some interesting facts related to living in that state. Upper graders presented on Early Egyptian life. We heard about pharaohs and mummies, about hieroglyphics and pyramids. What an interesting week!

We started our 'smiley face' tracking this week, as well. Each student is responsible for keeping track of their time and making sure they complete all of their works throughout the day. At the end of the day, if they've been successful, the student gets a 'smiley face' on their chart in the office. Students with a full chart get a free 'Homework Pass,' allowing them a lazy evening without homework!

Friday was our first day of the Home school Co-up, with four students in attendance. We enjoyed having some new faces to interact with!

We are awfully excited about the upcoming Hot Lunch days! Mrs. Donna has graciously agreed to provide us with a Hot Lunch once a month, on Fridays! Our first one will be on September 1st, and we will be served Sub Sandwiches!

SOLAR ECLIPSE

As you all know, the eclipse was this past Monday. The kids and staff were so excited to be able to witness this spectacular event. On Friday, the kids made special viewing boxes with Mrs. Dexter. Then on Monday, the kids, staff, and even a few parents gathered outside to witness the solar eclipse and even though we only had 96% coverage, it was an event no one will ever forget.

Friday was also our first home school coop day! We had 4 home schoolers join us for our Friday fun!
